Mr. Bautista Jr. has built a distinguished career in research, education, and communication. A Licensed Professional Teacher and academic leader, he currently serves as the Director of the Research Management Office of Quezon City University, where he leads institutional research programs, policy development, and capacity-building initiatives for faculty and students. With over thirteen years of experience in social research, Mr. Bautista has worked across government, academe, and the private sector, serving as a consultant for market research firms, real estate companies, and academic institutions. He has taught courses in communication research, quantitative and qualitative data analysis, statistics, public opinion research, and research ethics. His scholarly contributions include publishing in Scopus- and Web of Science-indexed journals such as Sage Open (Q1), Sage E-Learning and Digital Media (Q1), International Journal of Learning, Teaching, and Educational Research (Q2), Asian Journal for Public Opinion Research (Q3), Diversitas Journal, and the Asian Journal on Perspectives in Education. He has also presented papers at national and international conferences, earning recognition, including Best Presenter awards. An accomplished author, Mr. Bautista has written and co-written several academic textbooks used in Philippine senior high schools, including Practical Research 1 (Qualitative Research), Media and Information Literacy in the 21st Century (First and Second Editions), and the corresponding teachers' guides.

Beyond academia, Mr. Bautista has served in leadership roles in various research and civic projects, including as Project Team Leader for the USAID–EDC Expanded Executive Course for Barangay Leaders on System Delivery Support for the Out-of-School Youth. He is also a peer reviewer for several international journals.

Mr. Bautista holds a Bachelor's degree in Communication Research (summa cum laude) from the Polytechnic University of the Philippines, a Master's degree in Communication Management (with distinction) from the Asian Institute of Journalism and Communication, and a Certificate in Teaching Education from the Central Colleges of the Philippines. He is currently completing his Master's in Public Administration at Isabela State University.

He is an associate member of the National Research Council of the Philippines (NRCP), a member of the Philippine Association for the Advancement of Science & Technology (PhilAAST), and a member of the Philippine Association of Research Managers (Philarm). He is also affiliated with the Asia Pacific Consortium of Researchers and Educators, the International Association for Media and Communication Research, and the Asian Society of Teachers for Research. Beyond his professional commitments, Mr. Bautista volunteers for faith-based and community initiatives, including the Diocesan Coordinator of the Diocese of Kalookan – Public and Political Affairs Ministry (DPPAM) and the Parish Pastoral Council for Responsible Voting (PPCRV).
